Reading Comprehension: Read the passage below and answer the questions based on the text.

Manny and Mykala crouched behind one of the myriad statues that dotted the prince's lawn. The day was radiant but brumal, and the two had to brace themselves against the swift, algid wind that came rolling in from the sea. But they were fortuitous: after just fifteen minutes of waiting, a giant wild turkey came strutting out of the underbrush. Three months earlier, the prince had abrogated hunting, arguing that what was once a plethora of wildlife had dwindled far enough. So Manny and Mykala were poaching, flouting the prince's decree like Romeo and Juliet flouted the wishes of their parents. It was with beating hearts that they took aim at the hapless, oblivious bird.
